LIFE1044 Introduction to Neuroscience

An introduction to the basic concepts and key information needed to understand neuroscience. Neuroscience is a term covering the modern multi-disciplinary approach to the study of nervous system structure, function and dysfunction. The course contains integrated elements of anatomy, physiology, biochemistry, psychology, and other disciplines.

